

Giordano Taiwan Participates in Beach Clean-Up Event

May 25, 2019, Taiwan

Over 50 employees from Giordano's Taiwan operations and their families gathered to remove plastic waste and rubbish from a local beach.

Both the organizers and employees took the opportunity to educate each other, as well as the children present, on the environment and wildlife conservation, as well as learning more about recycling.

"Plastic waste is one of the world's most pressing issues. Through clean up initiatives and other activities, we want to combine team-building with awareness, and really make a difference" remarked Xavier Chen, Assistant General Manager of Giordano Taiwan. "I hope our team can take an active role in changing behaviour and raising awareness about reducing plastic waste and the benefits of recycling. This is part of Giordano's broader ESG vision and initiative", Mr Chen concluded.
